Caterina Moroni is a performing artist and a professional in the unconventional communication field and cultural sector.

Graduated in Communication and Business Management, she attended the European Professional School for artists directed by Societas Raffaello Sanzio in 2007 and 2008. Since before her years of study she had been collaborating, learning and working with different artist groups and directors of the contemporary scene -both established and emerging-, and she had been cooperating with many cultural organizations.

In 2008 she started her personal creative research project and her performances have been presented in several festivals.

In 2014 she conceived the participatory project "Duck March" that received in 2015 the Movin'up Prize by Ministry of Cultural Heritage and GAI – Association for the Circuit of the Young Italian Artists.

She is one of the four Italian artists selected for the project Arts'R'Public that is a Euro- Mediterranean laboratory whose aim is the creation and transmission of the arts in public spaces.

CURRENT ACTIVITIES AND COLLABORATIONS

She is a member of the international team selected for the European project "Arts'R'Public_ Euro-Mediterranean Laboratory for Arts in Public Spaces". Aim of the project is the creation and transmission of the arts in public spaces. In this context, she conceives and realizes specific artistic interventions for Awaln'Art festival in Marrakech, Cratère Surfaces- International Outdoor Festival in Ales (FR) and STAMP festival in Hamburg.

She cooperates from the foundation (2005) with Associazione Demetra, an organization active in the promotion of creativity, youth gathering and support to the artistic production. Demetra manages the multifunctional space, youth and cultural center "Centro di Palmetta " in Terni.

On behalf of Ass. Demetra she is the coordinator of the regional artistic residency recognized by MIBACT through Article 45, in partnership with Indisciplinarte. Over the years she has contributed to the realization and took part as an artist to the International festival of contemporary creation "Terni festival".

The Casa Laboratorio di Cenci is an internationally known place dedicated to creative research and ecological practices. At Casa Laboratorio di Cenci she has been leading for several years workshop on environmental education through the languages of theater and visual arts for groups of all ages.

F4i – Funds for Ideas is a project managing and fund raising studio. To conceive innovative ideas it relies on the collaboration of creative and professionals in the most diverse fields. For F4i Caterina is in charge of Creative Europe and Erasmus + program as a driver.
